

CENTER FOR CITY DESIGN

BOOK DISCUSSION

FULL SPECTRUM: COLOUR IN CONTEMPORARY ARCHITECTURE

TUESDAY, APRIL 23

🕒 2PM–3PM PST

📍 WAH B1

The book examines the function of color in contemporary architecture and argues it is not to present a vision of an idealized other world, but to prompt new imaginaries.

Join the editors, Jasmine Benyamin and Elena Manferdini in a discussion with Mimi Zeiger about how color aids the democratization of visual culture and the vital role it plays as an urban signifier.
